Return Chart - Continuing Undergraduate Students

Instructions: Undergraduate students are allowed a leave of absence of up to three consecutive semesters away without having to reapply. The timeframe for this leave of absence is based upon their last graded CU-Boulder semester. Use the chart below to find your last graded semester and determine the timeline for your leave of absence and return semester.

Last Graded Semester= Last Graded term, "W" and "I" grades count as earned grades.	Optional Return Semester = Students are not required to return during the summer.
Allowed Leave of Absence = Student is not registered for any courses.	Must Return Semester = Students must register for courses or they will be discontinued.

"Optional Return" semesters are for returning situations that happen on a summer semester. Students in this timeframe may return either during the summer or fall semester.
In order to qualify for this program, students must receive a grade for one or more courses before taking time away from the university. Withdraw and incomplete grades of "W" and "I" are regarded as earned grades. This program is not for new, readmit, transfer or disciplinary suspended students.
