CONVOCATION – CURRICULAR CHANGE (FALL 2013)

Dean's Convocation will continue as an extension of music major orientation programming. Incoming freshmen will be expected to attend Dean's Convocation for 10 sessions during the fall semester; transfer students will be encouraged to attend any sessions they consider relevant to their situation given prior college experience. Freshmen who fail to attend Dean's Convocation will be blocked from registering for spring semester classes, but will no longer receive a failing grade on their transcript.

The Regular Convocation requirement (five semesters beyond Dean's convocation for freshmen, three semesters beyond Dean's convocation for transfer students) will be phased out. PLEASE READ THIS NEXT SECTION CAREFULLY!!

• Current juniors and seniors who have passed six semesters of CONVO have completed the requirement;

• Current juniors and seniors who have NOT passed six semesters of CONVO must continue to register for CONVO and submit attendance documentation until six semesters have been passed;

• Current sophomores who have passed four semesters of CONVO have completed the requirement;

• Current sophomores who have NOT passed four semesters of CONVO must continue to register for CONVO and submit attendance documentation until four semesters have been passed;

• Current freshmen who have passed two semesters of CONVO have completed the requirement;

• Current freshmen who have NOT passed two semesters of CONVO must continue to register for CONVO and submit attendance documentation until two semesters have been passed.

Victoria will be notifying you as to your convocation requirement status once spring semester grades are posted. We hope that we do not need to offer CONVO past the 2013-14 academic year.
