

California bashing

"Why is everyone always picking on us?" was the question asked by the story this illustrated. It ran in West magazine, the Mercury's weekly Sunday supplement, originally in B&W. At the time (April, 1990), I jumped through technical hoops to provide thick and thin lines. Today, all you need is a pressure-sensitive tablet.