This course will deal with the main problems and issues in economic development. Some topics will be dealt with in more detail than others. Among them: banking and development, trade and international debt, and the role of planning in economic development. Some topics will be debated in class.

MAIN TEXT:

You are encouraged to read the New York Times and/or the Wall Street Journal regularly. Required readings are available at Kinko's:

5. Gunnar Myrdal, "International Inequality and Foreign Aid in Retrospect", in Pioneers in Development, ed. by Gerald Meier and Dudley Seers, Oxford University Press 1984, pp. 149-165.
Part I: The Theory and Measurement in Economic Development, Chapters 1-6

Part II: Ingredients of Development, Chapters 7-10

Part III: Domestic Problems and Policies, Chapter 11-14

Part IV: International Problems and Policies, Chapters 15-21

Evaluation: 1 midterm exam and one final exam counting for 40% and 60% respectively.

Midterm Exam: Wednesday, March 21st.

NO MAKE-UPS for missed exams.

Comprehensive Final - 60%, (Wednesday, May 16, 11:30 am - 2:30 pm)
Final must be taken at scheduled time!