Industrial organization studies the functioning of markets. It is concerned with business behavior and strategy, as well as their implications for economic efficiency. It also studies the role of public policies in promoting efficiency. The topics that we intend to cover are listed below in the course schedule. The textbook is Industrial Organization: Contemporary Theory and Empirical Applications by Pepall, Richards, and Norman, 5th edition. I will indicate the required readings below and in my lectures.

Prerequisites & Grading: Students must have successfully completed ECON 3070, Intermediate Microeconomics, before taking this course. Grades are based on homework (10%), Exam 1 (20%), Exam 2 (30%), and Final exam (40%). You are required to attend all classes. If you must miss a class, please inform me in advance. You are encouraged to form study groups to discuss homework and lecture materials.

The course materials are arranged by topics (the topics are listed below), and each topic is usually covered over several classes. When homework is assigned for a topic, it is usually due at the beginning of the first class for the next topic. You can start working on problems in an assignment before I finish the topic.

A tentative course schedule is attached (the chapter and page numbers refer to those in the textbook). There can be changes to this schedule during the semester, which will be announced in classes. It is your responsibility to update your information about the course according to announcements made in class.

University Policies

Students with Disabilities
If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit to your professor a letter from Disability Services in a timely manner (for exam accommodations provide your letter at least one week prior to the exam) so that your needs can be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact Disability Services at 303-492-8671 or by e-mail at dsinfo@colorado.edu. If you have a temporary medical condition or injury, see Temporary Injuries guidelines under the Quick Links at the Disability Services website and discuss your needs with your professor.

Religious Observances
Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to deal reasonably and fairly with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. In this class, Please make your requests to me within the first two weeks of the semester. See full details at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/fac_relig.html

Classroom Behavior
Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Those who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, color, culture, religion, creed, politics, veteran's status, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and gender expression, age, disability, and nationalities. Class rosters are provided to the instructor with the student's legal name. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the semester so that I may make appropriate changes to my records. For more information, see the policies on classroom behavior and the student code.

Discrimination and Harassment
The University of Colorado Boulder (CU-Boulder) is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working, and living environment. CU-Boulder will not tolerate acts of discrimination or harassment based upon Protected Classes or related retaliation against or by any employee or student. For purposes of this CU-Boulder policy, "Protected Classes" refers to race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, veteran status, political affiliation or political philosophy. Individuals who believe they have been discriminated against should contact the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance (OIEC) at 303-492-2127 or the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution (OSC) at 303-492-5550. Information about the OIEC, the above referenced policies, and the campus resources available to assist individuals regarding discrimination or harassment can be found at the OIEC website. The full policy on discrimination and harassment contains additional information.

Honor Code
All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, bribery, and threatening behavior. All incidents of academic misconduct shall be reported to the Honor Code Council (honor@colorado.edu; 303-735-2273). Students who are found to be in violation of the academic integrity policy will be subject to both academic sanctions from the faculty member and non-academic sanctions (including but not limited to university probation, suspension, or expulsion). Additional information regarding the Honor Code policy can be found online and at the Honor Code Office.
