COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This class is the second of a two-course sequence, and a continuation of ECON 1078. We will cover topics that include derivatives, optimization, and integrals. These tools will help you better understand the mathematical framework on which economic models are based and help prepare you for more advanced economics courses.

PREREQUISITES:
ECON 1078 or its equivalent

CLASS ATTENDANCE:
You are responsible for all material covered in class lectures. Attendance at all lectures is strongly recommended. Missed quizzes and exams cannot be made-up for any reason.

LAPTOPS/TABLETS:
There is to be no laptop, tablet, or phone use for this class at any time, for any reason. The only exception to this rule is if disability services mandate that you must be allowed to use a laptop for note taking purposes. In this case, an official letter from disability services is required.

HOMEWORKS:
Homework Assignments will be assigned regularly throughout the semester. These assignments will not be graded, but quiz questions will be very similar to those on the homework.

Religious Observance Policy

Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to deal reasonably and fairly with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. In this class, you must notify me within the first 3 weeks of class if you will need to miss a midterm or final exam. See full details at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/fac_relig.html.

Classroom Behavior Policy

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. Those who fail to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, color, culture, religion, creed, politics, veteran's status, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, and gender expression, age, disability, and nationalities. Class rosters are provided to the instructor with the student’s legal name. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the semester so that I may make appropriate changes to my records. See policies at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/classbehavior.html and at http://www.colorado.edu/studentaffairs/judicialaffairs/code.html#student_code.
