

Peer Evaluation of Presentation (Yale University, Econ 468, Mobarak)

This form is to be filled out by all students as a means of constructive criticism and useful feedback.

Your Name: _____

Name of Speaker: _____ Date: _____

Topic: _____

The points you assign below will not affect the grade of your classmates, but my perception of how accurately you score the presentations may affect your grade. It is important that you also provide written feedback in the "comments" column and make some detailed suggestions on back of this form, including your reaction to the presentation, questions that you still have about the topic, and suggestions for how you would improve the presentation and the underlying research itself. This is generally much more helpful than a point score. You are also required to write a 1-paragraph synopsis of the talk on the back of this form.

Rating Scale
Excellent = 5	Good = 4	Fair = 3	Poor = 2	Terrible = 1

Organization	Comments	Points
Introduction is helpful and tells you what to expect and focus on
Main points made clear
Presentation logically structured
Material pertinent to the subject (not rambling nor excessive)
Presentation neither too long nor too short (was the time limit adhered to?)
Content
Clear language; technical terms explained simply
Well researched – not taken directly from a single textbook or website.
Good range of information included (not too obvious nor too specialized)
Clear explanations of main points
Helpful case studies and/or examples used to illustrate points
Communication Skills
Interesting and engaging manner (e.g. did not read from notes excessively)
Appropriate expressions (avoiding, e.g., "um," "like," and "stuff" and cursing)
Poise and posture – professional manner
Helpful hand-outs, visual aids and/or multimedia
Answered questions appropriately and completely
Total points:

Remember to write down a synopsis and more detailed comments on the back!