Dear Megan Stephenson,

This email is to inform you that Mr. David Rogalski has been awarded Winner of the Outstanding Advising Award - Primary Advising Role. Established in 1983, the NACADA Annual Awards Program for Academic Advising honors individuals and institutions making significant contributions to the improvement of academic advising. NACADA is a representative and advocate of academic advising and those providing that service to higher education.

Our Association has grown to over 11,000 members and hosts an Annual Conference each fall that has attracted over 3,000 attendees, as well as 10 Regional Conferences, and intensive study of advising through various other events held throughout the year. NACADA publishes a scholarly Journal, a quarterly e-Publication, and occasional special publications. NACADA offers an advising training video, manages an Academic Advising Consultants and Speakers Service, offers member career services, funds research grants, sponsors an awards program, grants scholarships, and supports commissions to address important academic advising issues. Most of all, NACADA provides a network and professional identity for the thousands of faculty, full-time advisors, and administrators whose responsibilities include academic advising.

Please accept our appreciation for your support of NACADA as we continue to promote the development of students through effective advising programs and personal attention. The impact of advising on student satisfaction and retention is well documented, and it is through efforts such as those of your institution that we are able to share new advances with others.

Please contact the NACADA Executive Office at (785)532-5717 or nawards@ksu.edu with any questions.
