

The Bylaws Committee of the Boulder Faculty Assembly moves as follows:

That all BFA representatives holding eliminated seats whose terms extend beyond the July 1, 2009, implementation of the new Boulder Faculty Assembly representation structure be “grandfathered in” for the length of their respective terms:

- Adam Norris, who was elected in the spring of 2008 to the Non-Tenured At Large seat for a term of two years, will serve in this capacity through the end of his term in 2010. At that time, the Non-Tenured At Large seat will cease to exist.
- Patrick Kociolek, who was elected in the spring of 2008 to the Museum seat, will serve through 2011 in this capacity. At that time, the Museum seat will cease to exist.
- Diane Sieber, who was elected in the spring of 2007 to an Engineering “at large” seat, will serve through 2010 in this capacity. At that time, the Engineering “at large” seat will cease to exist.
- Elizabeth Dunn, Thomas Hollweck, Christian Kopff, Graziana Lazzarino and Deward Walker, who were elected to A&S Small Unit At Large seats in either 2007 or 2008, should serve in this capacity through the end of their respective terms in 2010 or 2011. As each term expires, the corresponding A&S Small Unit at Large seat will cease to exist.
- In the event that any of these individuals leaves the Boulder Faculty Assembly for any reason during their term, their seat will terminate automatically.
