

Fulbright Gateway Orientation

University of Colorado Boulder
August 1-5, 2011

This activity is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs as part of the Fulbright Program, the U.S. government's flagship international exchange program supported by the people of the United States and partner countries around the world. For more information, visit fulbright.state.gov.

This activity is administered by the Institute of International Education (IIE).

The Fulbright Gateway Orientation Program is a benefit made available to foreign Fulbright student grantees arriving in the U.S. It is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA), as part of its flagship Fulbright Program, and designed by the Institute of International Education (IIE). The Gateway Orientation is intended to address two main components: 1) the participants' roles and responsibilities as Fulbrighters and 2) skill development for successful academic and professional lives in the U.S.

As Fulbrighters: The Gateway Orientation Program provides an overview of the Fulbright Program, administration of grants and students' rights and responsibilities as exchange visitors. The Program also aims to provide professional development activities and leadership training to Fulbright students.

As foreign students: Participants should receive an introduction to the U.S. academic system and culture as part of the overall goal of promoting mutual understanding and to assist with their entry into their U.S. academic programs. Gateway Orientations are an opportunity for Fulbright grantees to experience and learn about regional culture and highlights.

Gateway Presenters and Staff Biographical Information

- Mr. Zach Alger
Program Officer
Educational Services, IIE

Zach joined IIE in November of 2009 and has worked on the Foreign Fulbright Program since April of 2011. He attended Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Washington where he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science and Spanish Language & Literature. While attending university, he spent a semester in Granada, Spain as well as one month in South Africa. After returning from his semester in Europe, he started working at his university's international programs office, where he provided peer support to other students and assisted in administrative duties for two years. He also interned at the Canadian Consulate General in Seattle for one semester in the Political, Economic Relations and Public Affairs sector. He enjoys volunteering, traveling, great food, and exploring the outdoors.

- Mr. Lawrence H. "Larry" Bell
Director of the Office of International Education
University of Colorado Boulder

Larry's undergraduate and graduate work was at Southern Illinois University (SIU) where he also taught for two years. In addition, he taught in and directed the Intensive English Program at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee for 12 years before moving into international education administration. Larry has over 30 years of higher education international experience. Larry has also been active in international education professional associations over his career. His current responsibilities include services to CU students studying abroad, services for international faculty and students visiting CU, internationalizing the campus and working to encourage students, staff, and faculty to be more international in everything related to their education and teaching.

Larry developed his interest in international activities while serving in the military in Vietnam. After leaving the army, he studied Vietnamese language and linguistics (his BA is in Vietnamese Language from SIU, with an MA in Linguistics) and that started him on his international journey. This journey has taken him to more than twenty-five different countries as a part of his work.

- Dr. Penny Bennett
Academic Advisor, Nurse, and Public Health Specialist
University of Colorado Boulder

Penelope, most often known as Penny, grew up in Houston, Texas, but has lived in a variety of other places before her arrival in Colorado 11 years ago. She practiced women's health care as a Certified Nurse-Midwife for 25 years before shifting her focus to public health and completing a PhD just this year. She currently teaches and advises for CU, helping students prepare for graduate programs in medicine, etc. She loves to travel with her spouse John, also a professor at CU, and has done global health projects in Mongolia, Gaza, and Mali.

- Dr. Stanley Deetz
Professor of Communication, Director of the Center for the Study of Conflict, Collaboration and Creative Governance and the Peace and Conflict Studies Program
University of Colorado Boulder

Stan is a President's Teaching Scholar at the University of Colorado. He is author/co-author of over 100 scholarly articles and twelve books including the award winning, Democracy in an Age of Corporate Colonization. His research focuses on alternative conceptions and practices of communication and democracy and the micro-practices of power in relation to an increasingly pluralist and interdependent world. His professional practice has worked with the design of communication processes for cross-functional and multi-party decision making both within commercial organizations and between organizations and external communities. He has lectured and worked on projects in nineteen countries. He has served as a Senior Fulbright Scholar and is a National Communication Association Distinguished Scholar and an International Communication Association Past-President and Fellow.

- Dr. Philip P. DiStefano
Chancellor
University of Colorado Boulder

Prior to his appointment on May 5, 2009, Dr. DiStefano was the top academic officer at University of Colorado Boulder for eight years as the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. He served as interim chancellor twice during pivotal times in the university's history. Dr. DiStefano co-chaired the steering committee for University of Colorado Boulder's visionary strategic plan, Flagship 2030, conceived with campus, community and statewide input, to guide University of Colorado Boulder for decades to come. Today, Dr. DiStefano is shepherding its implementation as Flagship 2030 moves from vision to reality. Dr. DiStefano has served University of Colorado Boulder for 35 years. He joined the University of Colorado in 1974 as an Assistant Professor of Curriculum and Instruction at the School of Education. His academic career flourished as he assumed a series of academic and administrative positions, including Professor, Associate Dean, Dean and Vice Chancellor. He was appointed Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs in 2001. As Chancellor he works closely with students, faculty, staff, alumni, donors, governing officials, and business and community leaders in extending CU's legacy as a preeminent national comprehensive research university. A first-generation college graduate, Dr. DiStefano earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University and a Master of Arts degree in English Education from West Virginia University. He holds a Doctorate in Humanities Education from Ohio State University, where he served as a teaching and research associate. He began his educational career as a high school English teacher in Ohio. He has authored and co-authored numerous books and articles on various topics in literacy education.
