

The Colorado Review of Hispanic Studies

Call for Papers

The Colorado Review of Hispanic Studies is a refereed journal devoted to the literatures and cultures of the Hispanic and Lusophone worlds. Published annually, it is sponsored by the Department of Spanish and Portuguese at the University of Colorado at Boulder.

We are currently seeking submissions for our upcoming volume (fall 2010). This volume, which will be published electronically, will feature a general (non-thematic) section as well as a thematic dossier (for information about the thematic dossier, visit our website at <http://www.colorado.edu/spanish/crhs.htm>).

For the non-thematic section, the CRHS is particularly interested in articles pertaining to literary or cultural criticism that explore the relationships between Literature and History and Literature and Politics. Topics of interest for the upcoming non-thematic section include, but are not limited to, the following subjects relevant to nineteenth and twentieth-century Iberia and / or Latin America:

Globalization, Cosmopolitanism and Regionalism
National and Post-National Cultural Practices
The Rise and Fall of the National Intellectual Alternative Models of Intellectual Practice
Travel Writing, Migration, Diaspora
Narratives of Violence
Science, Technology and Fiction
Urban Spaces and Practices

The deadline for submissions is April 15th, 2010.

The journal publishes articles in Spanish, Portuguese and English. Submission guidelines and editorial norms can be found at the CRHS website at <http://www.colorado.edu/spanish/crhs.htm>.
