

*Sample Handout 3CU Student Services Where to Go - What to Do

In their intermediary position between the professor and the students, TAs often assume the role of friend or advisor to the younger, undergraduate students. TAs may be approached by students with concerns that do not fall into the area of the subject matter. Students may relate personal problems, ask for academic advice, or their instructional services, like tutoring. The following resources may be of help to you.
