6. In what area or areas of biology would you like to work? Is there any specific topic or group of organisms with which you are most interested?
7. Who are the faculty members with whom you would specifically like to work? Please indicate any faculty members with whom you have communicated by placing an asterisk next to their name. Direct contact with individual faculty members is strongly encouraged. An applicant needs a faculty sponsor to gain admission to our graduate program. Your answer here determines which faculty member(s) will review your application. They in turn will have to request you for admission in order for the graduate committee to consider your application.
8. On a separate page, please list the complete citations of any scientific publications that you have authored.
9. Statement of intent: Please attach a one-page typed statement describing why you are interested in attending graduate school and what your career goals or plans may be beyond receipt of your proposed degree. Please indicate why you wish to receive your graduate education from the EBIO department at CU-Boulder and why you have selected the particular degree program indicated. Give special attention to any previous teaching and research experience you may have had. Only one copy of your statement is needed. If you have already included a statement or essay in the web application, you do not need to duplicate that statement here.
