

Conditions for Issuing a Temporary Certificate of Occupancy (TCO) - Structural

The conditions for issuing a temporary certificate of occupancy (TCO) in relation to structural engineering are as follows:

1. All construction activity will be completed in the immediate vicinity of the area proposed for occupancy.
2. Material testing has been completed and a letter by the ITA has been submitted that the work complies with the construction documents.