

German author
Angela Krauß
reading from

Wie weiter? (2007)
and
*Die Gesamtliebe und die
Einzelliebe. Frankfurter Poetik-
Vorlesungen* (2004)
(reading held in both English and German)

Monday, October 27th, 4 p.m.
Followed by a reception.
UMC Rooms 415-417

Born 1950 in Chemnitz, in the former East Germany, Angela Krauß is a long-time resident of Leipzig, where she also studied at the Literary Institute "J.R. Becher." She won the Ingeborg Bachmann Prize for Der Dienst. Since then she has published a number of prose texts, with topics on relationships and places ranging from life in the GDR and reflections on post-wall identity to explorations of the USA, Russia, and, most recently, Trieste.

Angela Krauß has given readings and held guest lectureships in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, the United States, Canada, England, and India. She has received many prizes, and in 2004, she gave the prestigious poetic lectures at the University of Frankfurt; the published version (Die Gesamtliebe und die Einzelliebe) was honored with the "Kammweg" literary prize in 2006.

Angela Krauß' visit is co-hosted by the University of Denver; this reading is sponsored by the Department of Germanic and Slavic Languages and Literatures, CU-Boulder, and the German Club, CU-Boulder.