- Using Ning to Create a Dynamic Course Site
Juliette Bourdier, Doctoral Candidate, French and Italian
In this workshop, Juliette Bourdier will discuss the online tool Ning and how it can be used to create interactive course sites. Ning is a free, user-friendly, web-based platform that can function as a course management system or as a private area to communicate with the students. Ning comes with a number of built-in features such as a blog, a discussion forum and a chat tool. You can further customize Ning using the many free apps developed by third parties (video chat and video conferencing for example).
