

Possible IDs

Analogy

Empire

East India Company

Indian National Congress

Muslim League

Gandhi

1947 Partition

Amritsar Massacre

Satyagraha

The Tests of May

Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT)

Non-Aligned Movement (NAM)

Khilafat movement

Partition

Nation-state

Unplanned empire

Dirty Bombs

Said's Theory of Orientalism

Mandate

British/French Decolonization

1857 "Muntiny"/War of Independence/uprising

Aligarh

Deoband

Balfour Declaration

McMahon Hussein Correspondence

1922 Churchill White Paper

1939 White Paper (McDonald Paper)

Palestine Mandate

Hajj al-Husayni, the Mufti

Chaim Weizmann

Zionism

"Israeli Apartheid"

The Boycott of Israel

Salt March (March-April, 1930)

Muslim League

1947 Partition

Kashmir

Indirect rule (princely state)

Kargil Conflict

Atoms For Peace

May 1998 Nuclear Tests

CTBT

French Assimilation

Algeria

Balfour Declaration

Peel Commission

De facto Partition

The Analogy of Apartheid

Zionism

Globalization

FLN (National Liberation Front) - The Algerian Nationalist Movement

Pied Noirs

Self-Determination

Anglo-Egyptian Treaty

Amir Feisal

Chaim Weizmann

Passfield White Paper/McMahon White Paper

Partition

Resistance on Film

Ali la Pointe

"The Battle for Algiers" French-Algerian conflict

Low-intensity War

Hegemonic Society

Pluralistic Political Society

Mustafa

self determination

Possible Questions

What effect did a British education have on the elite class of Indians that made up Congress?

How does Afghanistan's past as a tribal-peasant society affect its current situation?

What was the effect of Britain's Imperialist rule over India? Do you think that overall it was beneficial to India? Why or why not?

How can Analogies possibly direct decisions and views set by governments and government officials?

How was Gandhi's non-cooperation campaign different from other nationalist movements?

In what way did the British contradictions between the Balfour Declaration and the McMahon Hussein Correspondence spread further problems between Arabs and Jews?

What is the lasting effect of the Palestine Mandate on world politics?

What effect did the relationship between France and America have on French decolonization French after WWII?

What are the main differences between British colonization and French colonization?

What factors caused France to have a more difficult experience with decolonization than the British?

To what extent did nationalist elites influence decolonization in both French and British colonies?

What connections can be drawn between the current situation in Israel and South African apartheid?

As we have read about decolonization in both Britain and France, are there any similarities today with America's war in Iraq?

What are the differences between French and British colonization of regions.

What was the government trying to accomplish in showing the film "The Battle of Algiers" at the Pentagon? Give details and evidence to support your answer.

Explain the significance between the Algerian-French conflict and the current Israel-Palistine conflict.

How can a film bring up the issues of morality in torture and terrorism and what or how can we learn from the film: The Battle of Algiers.