

Pursuant to Law School Rule § 3-1-1 (E), students who matriculate in the fall of 2016 or later must complete six hours of experiential courses. These six credits include credit for law school clinics, approved externships, and law school courses designated as “simulation courses.” The following courses have been designated as simulation courses that will count toward the required six hours of experiential credit. As the 2017-18 schedule is updated, this list will be updated as well.

Course No.	Course	Professor	Semester
5201	Entrepreneurial Innovation and Public Policy	Ron Sandgrund and David DuPont	Spring 2017
6213	Advanced Appellate Advocacy	Gabrielle Stafford [and any other professors]	Fall 2017
6856	Advanced Legal Research	Lisa Schultz	Fall 2017
7159	Advanced Trial Advocacy	Judge Elliff	Fall 2017
7751	Arbitration	Todd Wells	Fall 2017
7310	International Dispute Resolution	Anna Spain	Fall 2017
7381	Intellectual Property Counseling and Licensing	Daniel Sherwinter	Fall 2017
7051	Transactional Drafting	Amy Bauer	Fall 2017
6109	Trial Advocacy	Judge Daniel	Fall 2017
6109	Trial Advocacy	Ann England and Colene Robinson	Winter Session 2018
6226	Advanced Legal Writing: Immigration Simulation	Megan Hall	Spring 2018
6226	Advanced Legal Writing: Persuasion	Todd Stafford	Spring 2018
6226	Advanced Legal Writing: Torts	Teresa Bruce	Spring 2018
-----	Advanced Transactional Drafting	Amy Bauer	Spring 2018
6114	Construction Law	Dennis Polk	Spring 2018
6271	Deals Lab: M&A	Bob Yates	Spring 2018
6271	Deals Lab: Venture Capital	Jenn Rosenthal	Spring 2018
6373	Federal Litigation: Everything But the Trial	Scott Moss	Spring 2018
7023	Jury Selection	Ann England	Spring 2018
7409	Legal Negotiations	Scott Peppet	Spring 2018
6876	Legal Research Skills for Practice	Robert Linz	Spring 2018

7024	Real Estate Planning	Sloan Speck	Spring 2018
6223	Research and Writing in the Regulatory State	Gabi Stafford and Susan Nevelow Mart	Spring 2018
6836	Specialized Legal Research: Intellectual Property	Lisa Schultz	Spring 2018
6109	Trial Advocacy	Lisa Wayne	Spring 2018