

University of Colorado at Boulder
College of Music
2009 Summer Course in Music Education

Psychology of Music Teaching and Learning

Course/Registration Numbers: MUSC 6203, Call #45569

Credit: 2 graduate credits

Dates/Time: June 8 – July 2; 9:15 a.m. – 10:50 a.m.

Location: Imig Music Building, Room C121

Instructor: Dr. Peter Miksza, Assistant Professor, Music Education

Course Description: This course is designed to examine cognitive, behaviorist, and humanist psychology as related to music learning. Other topics include physiology of the brain and ear, psychoacoustics, creative thinking in music, expert and expressive performance, self-regulation/motivation theory, and performance anxiety. A majority of class sessions will involve group discussion of assigned readings and practical application of concepts through hands-on activities and weekly assignments.

 For course descriptions and graduate credit registration, see the Continuing Education website at <http://www.colorado.edu/summersession/> OR contact the Summer School office at (303)492-5148 or (800)331-2801. For CEU/NCMU credit registration contact Barbara.Russell@colorado.edu, (303)492-7735. Current graduate tuition is $385 per graduate credit-hour. Non-credit option is $150 per 1 credit intensive. Information on scholarships for non-degree students registering for graduate credit can be found at <http://conted.colorado.edu/wp-content/uploads/scholarapp.pdf>