

MEMO TO ACADEMIC ADVISORS AND UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

During this past summer term, the College of Music initiated a change in course prefixes and course fees. This change, which primarily impacts music courses taken by nonmajors, was approved by the Office of Academic Affairs in April and will be fully implemented during the Fall 2008 semester.

1. Music course fees will increase from $15 to $35 per course.
2. The existing EMUS prefix will continue to be used for music ensembles, such as choirs, bands, orchestras, world music ensembles, and other small ensembles. EMUS classes (music ensembles) will continue to remain open to both music majors and nonmajors. Students who enroll in an EMUS class will not be charged a music course fee.
3. A new MUEL prefix will be used for elective music classes and applied music classes restricted to nonmajors (see list below). Students enrolling in an MUEL class will be charged the $35 music course fee.
4. Courses with the prefix MUSC, PMUS or TMUS will continue to be restricted to music majors.

Returning students who registered for a fall semester non-ensemble EMUS course prior to the summer term will notice that the prefix change already appears on their course schedule, as well as on the schedule planner tools available through CU Connect. Please note that course titles, course descriptions, credit hours, and Arts and Sciences core approval status have not changed. The degree audit system is being modified so that MUEL courses are pulled in, as appropriate, under specific degree requirement categories. Questions about these changes should be directed to the Undergraduate Studies Office in the College of Music (303-492-6354; ugradmus@colorado.edu).
