WELCOME TO CU-BOULDER!
We are the Office of Information Technology (OIT). CU-Boulder is proud of its superior IT environment. As a student you’ll be able to take advantage of educational technology tools, wireless network access, innovative classroom technology, and much more. To get started, visit www.colorado.edu/oit/quick-start-guide.

CAMPUS IDENTITY
www.colorado.edu/oit/identikey
An IdentiKey consists of a CU-Boulder login name and an IdentiKey password. Your IdentiKey grants access to most campus IT services, including:

- MyCUInfo
- Email
- OIT Labs
- Campus Network
- Desire2Learn
- VPN

Your CU-Boulder online identity preferences are managed through the web-based service, Identity Manager, located at: cuidm.colorado.edu.

NETWORK CONNECTIVITY
www.colorado.edu/oit/networking
Utilizing the Network Access Control system, CU-Boulder provides wired, wireless and VPN connections for all campus affiliates. Whether in class, in residence halls, on the Buff Bus, or working off-campus, stay connected to the CU-Boulder network and access all campus resources.

MESSAGING & COLLABORATION
www.colorado.edu/oit/messaging-collaboration
CU-Boulder has partnered with Google in order to offer Google-powered communication and collaboration tools to the campus. Students receive many applications including Gmail, Contacts, Calendar, Chat, Groups, Drive (Docs), Sites, Analytics, and more in order to collaborate effectively in the classroom. More information can be found at: www.colorado.edu/oit/google.

Additionally, Microsoft Office 365 will be implemented during the academic year, in order to bring the cloud capabilities of Office 365 to the CU-Boulder campus.

SOFTWARE & HARDWARE
www.colorado.edu/oit/software-hardware
At OIT’s software and hardware website you’ll find information about education pricing on computers as well as software for CU-Boulder affiliates. Software offerings range from Antivirus and AutoCAD to MATLAB and SAS. While you’re there, learn more about IT energy conservation.
PRINTING & SCANNING

Students receive a set amount of Campus Cash for printing every semester, allowing for the use of over 100 printers across campus. The sophisticated and sustainable printing service allows users to print from campus labs, personal computers, and even mobile devices.
