Focused on workers with special needs.

Workplace Bullying in Academe

Chronicle of Higher Education has done a number of pieces over the past several years. Search under “bullying” and “mobbing” in their archives..

Academic Mobbing

http://arts.uwaterloo.ca/~kwesthue/mobbing.htm - incredibly rich website by Ken Westhues highlighting specific cases, research, and policy. There is also reference to his prodigious and thoughtful writing on the topic.

Bystander materials

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Ombudsman’s office has done a phenomenal job pulling together resources and providing practical suggestions for addressing hostile behavior on campus http://web.mit.edu/bystanders/assessing/index.html

Materials from other universities

1. Sample policies and associated procedures:
   a. MIT http://hrweb.mit.edu/policy/3-10 Broadly written policy that notes that harassment of any kind is considered unacceptable; http://web.mit.edu/communications/hg/ - Guidelines for raising complaints about harassment – notes both formal and informal mechanisms. Website shows tie to relevant policies; notes various units, which can be involved and contacted. Very informative re what it is and is not bullying. Provides mechanisms for contact.

   c. 4. Core Values as Framework
   a. University of Michigan http://www.urespect.umich.edu/ Describes “Expect Respect” campaign tying this to the Campus Commitment http://www.hr.umich.edu/oie/cc/ of ensuring a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Websites define respectful environment, connect to cover values, and identify relevant policies, procedures and units for addressing various concerns. Are currently considering a policy on bullying.
   b. Syracuse University http://humanresources.syr.edu/staff/ Have a “Respectful Workplace” initiative that incorporates policies, programs and events for a discrimination and harassment free work environment. Not as extensive and far reaching as U of Michigan. Tied to the “Code of Ethical Conduct” http://supolicies.syr.edu/ethics/code_conduct.htm

5. Programming and training
   a. University of Michigan http://www.voices.umich.edu/ Have designed and implemented training sessions and a workshop series on High Quality Connections (HQC) at Work based on the work of Professor Jane Dutton, Stephen M. Ross School of Business, U of Michigan. (http://webuser.bus.umich.edu/janedut/High_Quality_Connections.htm). The HQC model focuses on 4 elements of positive working relationships: respectful engagement, task enabling, trust and play. Participant manuals and other materials have been developed. This initiative is connected into the “Expect Respect” campaign and the Campus Commitment discussed earlier. Contact person: Mary Ceccanese (ceccanes@bus.umich.edu).

   a. American Association of University Professors (AAUP) http://www.aau.org/AAUP/pubsres/policydocs/contents/1940statement.htm discusses the meaning of academic freedom. Note that “respect for the opinions of others” is considered an important part of responsible behaviors.

Materials from other organizations

1. Joint Commissions on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCOAH) http://www.jointcommission.org/sentinel_event_alert_issue_40.behaviors_that_undermine_a_culture_of_safety Details on the policies, procedures, and activities required of healthcare organizations in addressing disruptive and inappropriate behavior by healthcare workers, including physicians. Very thorough articulation of various processes and activities that need to occur to establish and support respectful and effective working environments.

2. Veterans Health Administration (VHA) of the US Dept. of Veterans Affairs Civility, Respect and Engagement in the Workplace (CREW) initiative. Based on data from their All Employee Surveys, the VHA became aware that (in)civility was a prime driver of key outcomes in the organization. Specifically, uncivil and disrespectful behavior was costly both at an individual level in terms of job satisfaction and productivity and at a facility level in terms of patient satisfaction and quality of care. In their third phase of an innovative pilot program, the VHA has developed a program directed at changing the culture of units to focus on respect and engagement. Working closely with employees in units, respect is defined and operationalized by the employees themselves and then support and training are provided to achieve the employee generated vision. The program has generated a lot of attention from other institutions across the US and Canada.
