OF INTEREST TO COLLOQUIUM PARTICIPANTS:

MORRIS MANUSCRIPTS. A set of complete, unpublished, book-length manuscripts written by Professor Morris will be presented formally to the Rare Books Collection at the main Library as part of the opening lecture of the Colloquium on Thursday evening, March 15. Announcements will also be made of the publication of a commemorative volume, The Philosopher in the Community: Essays in Memory of Benjamin Morris.

AUNEVILLE, a film directed by Jean-Luc Godard (1966), will be shown in the McFarland Auditorium on Monday, March 16, at 7:30 p.m. The story of the struggle of the individual against the machine in a future society is particularly relevant to the program of the Colloquium.

THIS 1984 will present a series of films and lectures on the Boulder campus during the months of March and April. A complete schedule of the series, which is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities, is available in the main lobby of North Library.
Thurday, March 15
3:30 p.m. Professor Louis Henkin, Columbia University: "Freedom, American and Human—Orwell's Fears and Our Reality" Old Main Chapel Discussion will follow
7:30 p.m. President Arnold Weber: Welcome to the Colloquium Participants Professor Peter Michelson, English Department, University of Colorado at Boulder: "Violence: No Visting an Elephant" Old Main Chapel Reception will follow at Koening Alumni Center

Friday, March 16
9:30 a.m. The Honorable Eugene McCarthy: "George Orwell: A Prophet Just After His Own Time and Not in His Own Country" Old Main Chapel Discussion will follow
1 p.m. Professor Peter Singer, Marsh University, Australia: Distinguished Visiting Humanist, University of Colorado at Boulder: "The Reproductive Revolution: Closer to 1984?" Old Main Chapel Discussion will follow
2:45 p.m. PRIZE PAPERS
I. Professor Gerry Brodsky, University of Connecticut: "Discourse, Politics, and Terror in 1984"
II. Professor Laura Ingalls and Mr. Peter Standfield, University of Evansville: "The Hermeneutical Problem of History in George Orwell's 1984"
III. Professor Mike W. Martin, Chapman College: "Demystifying Doubt in the Quest for Knowledge, Truth, and Freedom in 1984"
Rooms to be announced

The Department of Philosophy presents the eighth annual Colloquium on Social Philosophy in honor of its late colleague, Bertram Morris. And as a public service to the community. Following the commitment of its pastime, each colloquium considers the philosophical and human value significance of a contemporary social issue. The department believes that these discussions contribute to public understanding of current policy problems.

Bertram Morris joined the faculty of the University of Colorado in the fall of 1947. He was a distinguished scholar and teacher, as well as an active member of the community. His published works include "The Anarchist Process," "Philosophical Aspects of Culture," and "Institutions of Civilization." He was a member of the Executive Committee of the American Philosophical Association, a member of the National Council of the American Association of University Professors, and a member of the State Board of the Colorado Civil Liberties Union. While at the University of Colorado, he won the Thomas Jefferson Award and the award of Research Lecturer. Throughout his career Bertram Morris was noted for his teaching, his participation in faculty governance, and his committed involvement in the social issues of the Boulder community. He initiated and directed an outreach program which still continues at Manual High School in Denver. He was a trustee of the State Colleges and University Consortium of Colorado. In token of their admiration and gratitude his departmental colleagues instituted this colloquium upon his retirement.

Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota was a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from 1948 until 1953 when he was elected to the U.S. Senate, serving in that body until 1976. He was three times a candidate for nomination to the presidency, his campaign in 1968 had a deep and lasting impact on both national and Democratic Party politics. Early in his career he was a teacher of economics and sociology in both high schools and colleges. He is the author of Frontiers in American Democracy, Democracy in American Politics, A Liberal Answer to the Corporate Challenge, Limits of Power, The Year of the People, and Other Things and The Aboard.

Louis Henkin was born in Russia and became an American citizen in 1920. He holds the LL.B. degree from Harvard University and was awarded the degree Doctor of Human Letters from his alma mater, Yeshiva College, in 1963. He has taught law at Columbia University and the University of Pennsylvania, and in 1943 was named Hamilton Felt Professor of International Law and Diplomacy at Columbia. He is the author of Arms Control and Inspection in American Law, The Berlin Crisis and the United Nations; Discrimination: The Lawyer's Dilemma, How the Nation Behaves, Law and Foreign Policy, Law for the Sea's Mineral Resources, and Foreign Affairs and the Constitution.

Peter Michelson, Professor of English at the University of Colorado, Boulder, has taught at Notre Dame and NorthWestern Universities and, in 1982, at the Tel Aviv Foreign Language Institute in the People's Republic of China. In 1976, he was awarded a Poetry Grant by the National Endowment for the Arts. He is the author of a large number of poems, essays, reviews, and fictional pieces; three books of poetry: The Easter, Paris: Planning, When the Revolution Finds this Year; and a book of criticism: The American of Porcelain. He is currently working on a biography and edition of the works of Max Michelson, his grandfather, an early 20th century poet.

Peter Singer of Melbourne, Australia, is Professor of Philosophy and Director of the Centre for Human Bioethics at Monash University. He is currently Visiting Distinguished Humane at the University of Colorado, Boulder. He has taught previously at Oxford University, New York University, and La Trobe University. His books include Demos and Disease: Animal Liberation, Practical Ethics, The Expanding Circle, Mor and Higg, Where most recent work has been in the field of bioethics, and his latest book, The Reproduction Revolution, written jointly with Deane Welch and published in 1984.