Questions of Character

Edited by Iskra Fileva
Contents

Acknowledgements
Notes on Contributors
Preface

PART I: CHARACTER IN ETHICS
Introduction to Part I
1. Morality and Aristotelian Character Excellence
   David Wolfsdorf
2. Aristotle on the Person-Situation Debate: From Natural Character to Moral Virtue
   Mariska Leunissen
3. Character and Blame in Hume and Beyond
   Antti Kauppinen
4. Kant on Cultivating a Good and Stable Will Adam Cureton
5. Character and Consequences
   Ben Bradley
6. How One Becomes What One Is: The Case for a Nietzschean Conception of Character Development
   Mark Alfano

PART II: CHARACTER IN MORAL PSYCHOLOGY
Introduction to Part II
7. Moral Psychology’s Drinking Problem
   Nomy Arpaly
8. Autonomy, Character, and Self-Understanding
   Paul Katsafanas
9. Virtue and Cognition
   Alison Hills
10. Virtue, Desire, and Silencing Reasons
    Neil Sinhababu
11. Character in Action
    Alfred Mele
12. Two Senses of “Why”: Traits and Reasons in the Explanation of Action
    Iskra Fileva

PART III: CHARACTER IN PSYCHOLOGY AND X-PHI
Introduction to Part III

13. Promises and Consistency
   Rachel Cohon and Jason D'Cruz

14. Do Broad Character Traits Exist? Repeated Assessments of Individuals, Not Group Summaries from Classic Experiments, Provide the Relevant Evidence
   William Fleeson and Michael Furr

15. A New Approach to Character Traits in Light of Psychology
   Christian Miller

16. Scrupulous Characters and Mental Illness
   Jesse Summers and Walter Sinnott-Armstrong

17. The Psychology of Character, Reputation, and Gossip
   Ted Hayes, Robert Hogan, and Nick Emler

18. Character and Emotional Phenomenology: Psychotherapeutic and Ethical Implications
   Robert Stolorow

PART IV: CHARACTER AND SOCIETY

Introduction to Part IV

19. Character and History
   Daniel Little

20. The “Character” of Profit and Loss: The Entrepreneurial Virtues
   Michael Munger and Juan Pablo Couyoumdjian

   Kyron Huigens

PART V: CHARACTER IN ART

Introduction to Part V

22. Fictional Characters as Social Metaphors
   Noël Carroll

23. Character, Social Psychology, and the Cognitive Value of Literature
   Robert Stecker

24. Fiction in the Brain
   Gonzalo Munevar

25. Character and Character Swapping in Mozart's Cosi fan tutte
   Stephen Davies

26. A Miscast of Character: Actors, Characters, and Character Actors
   Christy Mag Uidhir

Endnotes

Index