There are two ways to withdraw from the University of Colorado: Students must either complete the registrar's withdrawal procedures listed below, or withdraw by default (by never registering or not re-registering after dropping all Boulder main campus classes). Students that are enrolled through the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies must withdraw from that campus separately. Nonattendance DOES NOT constitute withdrawal, nor is it the responsibility of a professor to drop a student from a class for nonattendance. If a student stops attending a class, the student remains liable for all applicable tuition and fees and will receive a failing grade.

Students that are considering withdrawing from a semester should:

- First check with their advisor
- View drop/add information if you want to drop one or two of your classes rather than ALL of your classes
- Look over the registrar's Spring 2006 Withdrawal Information PDF.
- For detailed information regarding withdrawal refer to our brochure, Withdrawing from CU-Boulder PDF.
- Use the WITHDRAWAL CHECKLIST

Deadlines and rules for withdrawing may vary with each college and school. Students should check with their dean's office concerning their college or school's withdrawal policies.

Boulder main campus students and Continuing Education students who plan to return to Boulder main campus in the future must either go on the Time Out Program (TOP) or reapply through the Office of Admissions.

Financial Concerns and Tuition Assessment

Withdrawing students who have financial aid should refer to the Financial Aid office for tuition assessment information.
• Loans: Withdrawing students (including students applying for the Time Out Program) with Federal Perkins loans must complete a loan exit interview before leaving the university.
  o Failure to do so results in a stop on your record. This stop prevents you from receiving a diploma or an academic transcript of work at the university and from registering for any future terms.
  o Complete the exit counseling online at http://www.mapping-your-future.com/, or contact the Student Loan Department in the Bursar’s Office at 303-492-5571 or 1-800-925-9844, or e-mail bursar@colorado.edu.
• Disputes: Withdrawing students with extenuating circumstances should also see Dispute Rights under the Bursar's Office.
• Enrollment Deposit: The Student's $200 Enrollment Deposit may be returned after withdrawal.
