Students will examine the societal transformation of humans from foragers to farmers and assess the relationship between environment and adaptation. We will cross-culturally compare the social, economic, and ideological traditions of the civilizations that developed in Mesopotamia, Egypt, Mesoamerica and the Andes.

Approved for Arts & Sciences CORE: Historical Context

For more course descriptions go to:  http://srap.colorado.edu/