Songwriting is one of the most richly expressive and enduring forms of human creativity. The primary focus of this course will be to introduce students to the art (emotional elements) and craft (intellectual elements) of songwriting. The course is designed to offer a depth of music study typically reserved for undergraduate music majors to the non-music major student. It is tailored to the amateur musician, of which there are many, who wishes to take his or her musical experiences in college to a level deeper than can be obtained by way of the typical music appreciation course. Music literacy will be helpful but not necessary. Students must pass a brief audition that assesses their level of musical/vocal ability.

Requirement filled for Arts & Sciences CORE: Electives

For more course descriptions go to: http://srap.colorado.edu/