Great resources for staying up-to-date about current issues in healthcare

- Science
- The Wall Street Journal
- Discover
- American Medical News
- The New Physician (published by medical students)
- Scientific American
- And trade magazines for the profession you are planning on entering, such as:
  - Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA)
  - The New England Journal of Medicine
  - Journal of the American Optometric Association
  - Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association (JAVMA)
  - Journal of the American Dental Association (JADA)
  - Journal of the American Physical Therapy Association

Online resources that can help you become familiar with ethical issues related to healthcare

- The “Ethics in Medicine” website, maintained by the University of Washington School of Medicine, http://depts.washington.edu/bioethx/
- The Hastings Center Report, produced by a nonpartisan bioethics research institute bearing the same name, http://www.thehastingscenter.org/publications/
- The Center for Bioethics and Social Sciences in Medicine website, maintained by the University of Michigan, http://cbssm.med.umich.edu/
- The Kaiser Family Foundation website, a good source of information on the Affordable Care Act, http://kff.org/