Good afternoon folks!

We’ve had an exciting week since our last communication! Spring commencement occurred on Saturday, May 9th. The rain didn’t seem to dampen anyone’s spirits as the ceremony honored candidates for 5,927 degrees, including 4,545 bachelor’s degrees, 908 master’s degrees, 149 law degrees and 325 doctoral degrees. As your student takes the initial steps in their CU-Boulder educational journey, I know that 2019 seems like it’s a long way away! Believe me, the next four years will pass with amazing speed!

Speaking of your student’s educational journey, one of the most important tools available to them is the MyCUInfo student portal. This is where your son or daughter will manage the vast majority of their student transactions while at CU-Boulder. Your student can use MyCUInfo to:

- Find the dates of their enrollment appointment (this is their “window” to register for classes)
- Run a degree audit
- Explore potential classes
- Update and verify their addresses, mobile number and emergency contact information
- Apply and authorize the College Opportunity Fund (for Colorado Residents ONLY)
- Check for holds that may prevent them from enrolling in classes during their enrollment appointment
- Enroll in classes during their enrollment appointment
- View their online tuition and fee bill once they’ve registered for classes (bills are not mailed)
- Authorize you and others to view their account and pay tuition/fee bills online (I know, this sounds a little odd…authorize you to pay their bills!)
- Sign up for direct deposit of tuition/fee refunds
- Select or waive health insurance
- View, accept or decline financial aid when it is available
- Authorize financial aid and/or scholarships to cover university charges
- Search available student job postings

Your student can learn more about MyCUInfo through either the New Student Welcome Experience or the international student Pre-Arrival Orientation. To log in to MyCUInfo, they will need to activate their IdentiKey credentials. If your student hasn’t done this yet they should visit the IdentiKey Information page.

A quick reminder, the vast majority of the University’s communications with your student will be via email to your student’s Colorado.edu email address. For example, after June 1st, Housing and Dining Services will communicate exclusively to your student’s Colorado.edu account. Remember, your student will need to activate their IdentiKey credentials to receive email via their Colorado.edu account.

Finally, please don’t hesitate to contact us if you have any questions! Another good source of transition information this summer is the New Student Welcome Website.

I guess that’s all for now. We’ll be back in touch next week.

All the best… Barney, Caro and Lynn
