Congratulations on Your Admission!

Next Step for Graduate Students

Your first step is to confirm your intent to enroll through your MyCUBoulder account. Simply go to the ‘Check Application’ link, read the confirmation instructions carefully and pay attention to the confirmation deadline and the deposit amount. Your confirmation deposit is not refundable if you confirm your intent to enroll and later decide not to register and attend classes. Upon receipt of your confirmation, we notify other offices on campus (your college or school, enrollment offices, etc.) that you will be attending CU-Boulder. Materials will then be sent directly to you from those offices.

Transfer Credit

You should contact your department regarding transfer credit. ‘Transfer of Credit Request’ forms must be approved by both the department and dean of the Graduate School to be considered final.

Financial Aid

Each year, more than half of CU-Boulder students apply for and receive some form of financial aid. Financial aid awards are a combination of loans, grants, work-study and scholarships from institutional, private, state and federal sources. colorado.edu/financialaid

Orientation and Registration

Your department will contact you if an orientation program is required. Please direct your questions about orientation or registration procedures to the appropriate contact in your department.

Housing

Graduate and family housing is available on campus. Visit housing.colorado.edu/residences/apartment-life/apartments. To explore off-campus housing options, visit ocss.colorado.edu.

Tuition and Fees

Your online bill includes tuition and fees, room and board (if applicable), course fees and health insurance charges. Payment details may be found on the Bursar’s office website. For more tuition and fee information, and to access the bill estimator, go to bursar.colorado.edu.

Disability Services

Students who want services from Disability Services must submit documentation of a disability directly to Disability Services and request an intake with a Disability Specialist. colorado.edu/disabilityservices

Immunizations

All degree-seeking students born after January 1, 1957, must provide documentation for two rubeola (measles), two rubella (German measles) and two mumps immunizations. Hepatitis B and meningitis immunizations are strongly recommended but not required. Submit immunization records to Wardenburg Health Center before or on the first day of classes.

Deferring Your Admission

If you are a new graduate student, you should contact the department to which you are admitted for information about changing the term of your admission.

Declining Your Admission

If you will not be attending CU-Boulder, go to the ‘Check Application’ tab in your MyCUBoulder account, click the ‘Check Your Status’ button, then the ‘Accept/Decline Your Admission’ link, and follow the cancellation instructions.

Please email graduate.admissions@colorado.edu with any other questions.

colorado.edu/admissions/graduate

To reach another office on campus, visit colorado.edu or call the campus operator at 303-492-1411 (TTY 303-492-0833).