

Kyle Evashevski is an innovative finance leader with progressive experience leading financial planning and operations organizations. Seasoned in challenging conventional wisdom and streamlining processes through directly collaborating with executive leadership and teams to create opportunities for improved profitability through customized solutions and organizational transformation.

Kyle recently joined Project Resources Group, a leader in consulting and remediation across telecom and construction industries, to lead their Finance and Accounting team. Prior to this he spent 10 years with DIRECTV/AT&T, most recently as AVP/Group CFO for call center support for DIRECTV, Mobility, and Uverse. Prior to joining DIRECTV, Kyle rotated through corporate finance roles (Investor Relations, Treasury, Financial Planning & Analysis, Business Analysis, and Product Profitability) during his seven years at Qwest Communications. Between his undergraduate and graduate studies, he managed environmental litigation at Travelers Insurance, which was a natural extension of his senior thesis on the determinants of hazardous waste site remediation.

He completed his Bachelor of Arts in Economics, cum laude at the University of Colorado and a Master of Business Administration with Finance concentration at Wake Forest University. Kyle married Andrea, a fellow Buff, in 1998. They have two lovely children, Paige (14) and Luke (12) and live in Denver. Kyle is on the board of Love, Light, and Melody, a non-profit focused on shining light on vulnerable children and issues they face through arts and education and recently joined the CU Alumni Board of Advisors. In his spare time, he envisions a 100% healed Achilles tendon and returning to the activities that give him joy: soccer, mountain biking, skiing, and backpacking.
