University of Houston – Houston, TX August 2015-

Director, the Center for Mexican American & Latino/a Studies

Serve as administrative director of the Center for Mexican American and Latino/a Studies. Founded in 1972, the Center manages a budget of $3.4 million, a staff of eight employees and 3 adjunct faculty members. I work with University administrators, Department programs and Chairpersons to oversee faculty development, student programs that include an award winning educational program [the Academic Achievers Program], graduate research fellows, and post-doctoral fellows, faculty scholars, research, and community outreach. Responsible for the newly approved Mexican American and Latino/a Studies major and assessment. Responsible for fundraising to support CMALS research and student academic programs.

Since 2015:

- Have secured $6+ million in funds to support the Center and its initiatives [2015-2022]
- Successfully secured the Latino Art Now conference in partnership with the Smithsonian Latino Center held in Houston from February to May 2019 ; raised $859,100 for the event from 14 sponsors; media outreach was 77.2 million (which included Spain, Venezuela, Bolivia and Mexico) based on 95 media articles about the event;
- Student recruitment and retention program (Academic Achievers) Finalist for the Excelencia in Education award [2018]
- Secured UH as site of Headquarters for the national research consortium IUPLR [2018-2024]
- Successfully developed an Applied major in Mexican American & Latino studies 2022
- Successfully manage an annual budget of $3.4 million
- Successfully manage an administrative staff of 7, 2-3 adjunct faculty members, while also managing two editorial staff boards, one of a sociology journal (Social Problems) and an interdisciplinary international journal (Children's Geographies) [2015-2018]

The sociology journal staff consisted of 10 associate editors and 98 board members while the latter staff

consisted of 1 Assistant editor and 22 board members

- Successfully engaged in annual fundraising to meet the strategic needs of our student academic programs (approximately $150,000 per year, and more than $1.2 million in 2022)
- Created the country's first portable, bilingual and interactive digital board that maps the past, present and future of Houston's Latino artists (this is a visual digital archive and public knowledge tool)

Interim Director: Center for Immigration Research- Department of Sociology 2018-

Administrative Fellow:

University of Houston/National Science Foundation Center for Advancing UH Faculty Success' Administrative Fellow

Paired with the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences to work on the initiative:

"Defining Success in the Humanities: A Metrics-Based Approach" [declined]

Editor, Social Problems, journal of the Society for the Study of Social Problems [2014-2018] Responsible for editing one of the top three generalist journals in the discipline of Sociology, with 10 associate editors, 72 editorial board members, 26 student board members, and 5 staff members. The journal provides 75% of the Society's income and has remained a top 20 journal in the discipline for the past twenty years with 538 submissions in 2018. The journal's hallmark is addressing the pressing social problems of our time and with an explicit commitment to social justice. During three of my four years as editor, the journal's impact factor increased from 1.3 to 2.5 and the journal became the discipline leader in social media communication, far surpassing the reach of all journals in the discipline.

- Created one of the discipline's most diversified editorial boards (specialization, university type, region, junior and senior faculty, race & ethnicity, gender, sexuality)
- Implemented Spanish abstracts of published manuscripts online as part of international outreach
- Established a Social Media Committee that has expanded the outreach of the journal via social media and traditional press, and created podcast teaching tools.
- Broadened scope of submissions across areas of specialization
- Increased award winning papers published in Social Problems
- Increased press coverage of publications

North American Editor, Children's Geographies [2013-2018]

Successfully increased submissions from North America (Canada, United States and Mexico)

American Sociological Association 2019 Program Committee member

Planned the 2019 ASA program in NYC [ASA 20,000 members+]

Director of Graduate Studies, Policy Studies, University of Illinois-Chicago [2013-2014, 2007-2008]

Advised graduate students in the Ph.D program, implemented annual student evaluation review, worked closely with the Department Chairperson to monitor student progress in program, determined graduate student funding allocations, and implementation of graduate studies.

Media Editor, Humanity and Society Journal, Association of Humanist Sociologists, 2011-2013

Served as Inaugural editor and successfully secured multimodal reviews to promote humanist sociology (social media, video, performance art, multimedia presentations)
