

2026 PRE-BUSINESS MENTORS

TYLER ALBANO

Hello, I'm a former soccer player who spent years chasing the pro dream—and while I've hung up the competitive cleats, I've kept the elite athlete's mindset. Being Italian, soccer is basically in my DNA, but these days I channel that intensity into psychology, habit-building, and life optimization. I'm a big believer that success isn't an accident, it's a result of the systems we build. Whether you're trying to crush your academic goals or just want to talk about how to optimize your routine (or the best pasta in Boulder), I'm here to help you navigate your Leeds journey with purpose.
