Career Guide

EXPLORE

The Leadership Track is designed to equip Leeds students with the critical skills and competencies to lead effectively. Leeds students who complete this track acquire research-based knowledge and hands-on experiences that enable them to become principled, productive leaders who can energize, relate, and innovate.

Participants gain a solid foundation of leadership theory and learn how to apply these insights in practical business settings - thinking and acting like leaders from day one.

Industry Overview

The Leadership Track prepares students to be effective and thoughtful leaders. Strong communication skills are emphasized, along with the ability to manage challenges that have varied stakeholder groups with conflicting objectives. Leadership skills are useful in every industry. In a large organization, people with leadership skills can advance through a managerial career path. In small organizations, people with leadership skills create and seize their own opportunities. Leeds students build a solid foundation in all the business disciplines through the core ("BCOR"). The Leadership Track builds on this base enabling students to apply their knowledge and leadership skills to make a meaningful impact in any organization.
