EXECUTIVE CERTIFICATE IN NATURAL PRODUCTS

University of Colorado, Leeds School of Business in Boulder

July 11-15, 2022 | $4,000

for information: <https://leeds.ly/NaturalProductsCertificate>

Join us in beautiful Boulder, Colorado, an epicenter for the natural products industry, for an educational experience like no other. We have created a unique, immersive program for inspired food industry leaders to learn MBA-level course work combined with the pragmatic, real world experience of practitioners in the natural products industry. The program will be jointly delivered by the award-winning faculty of the Leeds School of Business and natural products CEOs and executives.

In addition to covering topics such as leadership, team building, financial management, sales and marketing strategy, supply chain management, and building sustainable food systems, the program will include daily networking opportunities and visits to local companies. Participants will receive a certificate from the Leeds School of Business upon completion of the program.
