

Reflection Paper

David Kolb is an educational theorist who developed the Experiential Learning Model, which consists of four components. Using the below information, reflect on each of the four components in a two to four page reflection paper. Submit reflection paper by uploading it to your Experiential Learning Completion Survey.

- 1) Concrete Experience
 - a. What did I do? Where? When? Why?
 - b. What was my role?
 - c. What were my goals/objectives?
- 2) Reflective Observation
 - a. What were the significant or unique components of the experience?
 - b. What worked for me and what did not?
 - c. How has my behavior changed as a result of this experience?
- 3) Abstract Conceptualization
 - a. Can I now articulate depth and breadth of the organization/culture/research topic?
 - b. What concrete experiences demonstrate this understanding?
- 4) Active Experimentation
 - a. How does my knowledge apply to other positions?
 - b. How will I implement my new knowledge?