Job Summary

The Center to Advance Research and Teaching in the Social Sciences (CARTSS) seeks instructors of non-credit methods workshops in the social sciences.

The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to building a culturally diverse community of faculty, staff and students dedicated to contributing to an inclusive campus environment. We are an Equal Opportunity employer, including veterans and individuals with disabilities.

Who We Are

CARTSS acts as a campus-wide incubator for research and teaching in the social sciences, including offering non-credit workshops in quantitative and qualitative methods for graduate students conducting social science research.

What Your Key Responsibilities Will Be

Your key responsibilities will be developing and presenting a 2-4 session methods workshop (1.5-2 hours per session) in person, online or a combination thereof.

What You Should Know

These appointments are temporary in nature and for one teaching term only (Fall or Spring term).

What We Can Offer

Workshop instructors are compensated at the rate of $250 per hour instruction.

What We Require

A minimum of a Master's Degree in the course material is required.

What You Will Need

- Knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to be successful in the role.
- Teaching experience or work equivalency in the course material.
