

Graduate Certificate in Global Engineering Enrollment Form

Instructions: Complete and sign the form below then have it signed by your faculty advisor. Once signed by the advisor, please email to: Sarah Goodroad, Program Assistant at sarah.goodroad@colorado.edu.

The Mortenson Center offers a Graduate Certificate in Global Engineering to degree-seeking, graduate-level engineering students (including BAM students in their final year, MS, or PhD students). Students earn the certificate by satisfactorily completing twelve credit hours approved by the Mortenson Center, with a grade of B- or higher in each course or module.

The following courses are required:

- CVEN 5919: Global Development for Engineers Semester: _____
- CVEN 5939: Global Development Practicum
- The remaining six credit hours will be completed as approved courses or one-credit modules offered by the Mortenson Center or Affiliate Faculty.

The Mortenson Center in Global Engineering (MCGE) Graduate Certificate requirements are separate from the graduate degree requirements established by each student's home department. Therefore, graduate students interested in completing the MCGE Graduate Certificate need to meet with their academic advisor(s) to determine how the certificate courses will fit into their overall degree plan. MS/PhD research requirements remain the exclusive responsibility of the student's home department/program and advisor.
