

Moonlight River Ballad

I told her there by the river
Because that's where she smiled at me
I told her how much she changed my life
How much she meant to me

She kissed me under the moonlight
Because that's where I sang to her
She placed her heart into my hand
And told me to never let go

I gave her my vow on the hilltop
Because that's where we fell asleep
I held her that night to keep her warm
And promised my vow to keep

Let this mountain river wash over us
Let it sweep us away
Let us be one with the wind that blows
Let us be free today

I carried her alongside the river
Because that's where she smiled at me
My tears became hers as they fell on her cheek
She meant the world to me

I cried like a wolf in the moonlight
Because that's where I sang to her
I still keep her heart in my old hand
How can I ever let go

I lay her to rest on the hilltop
Because that's where we fell asleep
I told her goodbye as I kissed her lips
And promised my vow to keep

Let this mountain river wash over us
Let it sweep us away
Let us be one with the wind that blows
Let us be free today
