

Communication

Be heard, be responsive and be a leader. Analyze and influence human interaction in work, personal and civic life. Become a skilled communicator who can break through the noise and adapt to variations in context and culture.

The Department of Communication offers:
BA in Communication | Minor in Communication

College of Media, Communication and Information

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT

Strong communicators have an analytical, transformative mindset that can be applied to any industry. You will gain a competitive edge by developing skills that are highly valued in today's constantly changing professional landscape. The question isn't what can you do with a communication degree, it's what can't you do.

- Develop communication tools in class that you can apply to the real world:
Audience analysis and message design | Conflict management | Consensus building | Effective listening | Group communication and decision making | Organizational communication | Public speaking
 - Learn to design and facilitate community dialogue and deliberation through student-organized events:
BoulderTalks | This program gives students the opportunity to go behind the scenes and on stage at community events, including StoryTalk, a themed storytelling series similar to The Moth and TenX9; TEDxCU, an independently organized TED event; and BuffsDiscuss, a monthly current events discussion created by students for students.
-

Sample courses:

Business and Professional Communication | Communication, Technology and Society | Discourse, Culture and Identities | Environmental Communication | Gender and Communication | Group Interaction | Intercultural Communication | Interpersonal Communication | Persuasion in Society | Political Communication | The Craft of Argument

Career possibilities and areas for communication graduates:

Communication consulting and training | Fundraising | General business and corporate communication | Health communication | Hospitality management | Human resource management | Media and entertainment | Mediation and negotiation | Nonprofit organizations | Sales and marketing | Speechwriting