

CMCI CommRAP

Live and learn with like-minded peers by joining CMCI's Communication and Society Residential Academic Program based in Buckingham Hall. Our program blends the opportunities of a large research university with the warmth and personal connections of a smaller environment.

and Information

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT

CMCI is designed as a place to think, innovate and create. In CommRAP, students engage in a wide range of social and co-curricular activities and community events. We offer a rich array of supportive resources in and beyond the building. The program is open to students from CMCI, the College of Arts and Sciences and the Program in Exploratory Studies. In CommRAP, you can:

- Participate in classes, events and field trips based on the theme of communication and society, with an emphasis on writing, creativity, storytelling and critical thinking.
  - Choose from course offerings representing all CMCI majors in classes of 19 students or fewer.
  - Learn and collaborate right where you live with access to a creative space with computers for research and multimedia projects, a dedicated study lounge, and a library of books on topics taught in CMCI.
  - Get to know faculty and peers outside of a traditional classroom setting and build lasting connections.
