

CMDI in D.C. Course Equivalencies

Note: In the Summer session, students take only CMDI 3000 for 3 credits and the internship course for 6 credits – for a total of 9 credits. Therefore, CMDI 3201 and 3202 only apply to Fall and Spring terms. Questions? Please email Ross Taylor: ross.taylor@colorado.edu.

CMDI in D.C. courses	CMDI 3000: Media Skills for Professionals (3 credits)	CMDI 3201: The Politics of Media (3 credits)	CMDI 3202: Entrepreneurial Media (3 credits)	Internship (6 credits)	Notes
APRD	APRD 3402 Content Creation			▪ APRD 4931 for 6 credits
COMM				▪ COMM 4930 for 6 credits (does not count toward major requirements)
CMDP	CMDP 3510: Critical Media Practices Workshop II		CMDP 3990: Media Professional Seminar	▪ CMDP 4931 for 6 credits	Max of 9 credits can apply to major
ENVD				▪ CMDP 4931 for 6 credits
INFO				▪ INFO 2001 or INFO 4001 for 3 credits plus ▪ CMCI 4931 for 3 credits	If student has taken INFO 2001, then count as INFO 4001
JRNL	JRNL 3344: Short Form Documentary	JRNL 3202: Covering Political Campaigns		▪ JRNL 4931 for 6 credits OR ▪ JRNL 4931 for 3 credits and	Preference is for JRNL 4931 for 6 credits

				JRNL 4981 for 3 credits (with UG chair and faculty supervisor; may require some additional work)
MDST	We've been advised that some of these credits can count on a case-by-case basis, but the department is open to it. For equivalency approval, the student will need to run it by the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies, who will run it by the relevant people and committees in Media Studies.	We've been advised that some of these credits can count on a case-by-case basis, but the department is open to it. For equivalency approval, the student will need to run it by the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies, who will run it by the relevant people and committees in Media Studies.	We've been advised that some of these credits can count on a case-by-case basis, but the department is open to it. For equivalency approval, the student will need to run it by the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies, who will run it by the relevant people and committees in Media Studies.	▪ MDST 4931 for 6 credits (counts as required internship) OR ▪ MDST 4931 for 3 credits and 3 elective credits Note from department: Advisors should please instruct MDST students to be proactive in making sure their full CMDI in DC internship counts for two things: one internship and one elective.

--	--	--	--	--	--