Re: Memo of Understanding

In gratitude and recognition for the assistance the UCSU has provided to CU Boulder through the Capital Construction Fee, the CU Boulder administration and faculty, represented by Chancellor Richard Byyny, do hereby commit to engage in good faith negotiations with the UCSU to increase the role and presence of UCSU in those boards, committees, and administrative organs of the university in which the students have an interest. These negotiations shall include, though shall not be limited to the role of UCSU with the department of judicial affairs, and the role of UCSU on the faculty-hiring committees. The administration also agrees to engage in good faith negotiations with UCSU to set or alter campus policies to be more accommodating to the student interest, including but not limited to the pay-to-print policy, the absence of reading days, preservation of fall break, the athletics fee and establishing a tuition and fee advisory board to the chancellor.

The UCSU, represented the Tri-Executives Sergio Gonzales, Vershara Lott, and Richard Murray, do hereby accept this commitment from the administration and agree in kind that UCSU shall negotiate the aforementioned issues in good faith with the administration.

Signed in understanding:

Richard Byyny
Chancellor
