INSTRUCTOR BIO

I have received my PhD in Economics from CU Boulder in 2010. I have been teaching economics since then. My research interests include behavioral economics and econ pedagogy. I am passionate about teaching and always look for the ways to improve it.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

From General Catalog: Explores theory and application of models of consumer choice, firm and market organization, and general equilibrium. Extensions include intertemporal decisions, decisions under uncertainty, externalities, and strategic interaction.

This course builds on microeconomics' basic principles and provides an overview of consumer choice models, firm decision making, and general equilibrium. It covers intertemporal decision-making, uncertainty, externalities, and strategic interaction.

The microeconomic theory explains how individuals decide how and how much to buy and how firms decide what and how much to sell under various economic environments such as different market structures, taxation schemes, and regulation. In this course, we analyze market failures, mainly externalities and public goods. We also cover international trade, taxes, uncertainty, and strategic interaction using basic game theory.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, you should be able to:

1. Identify the fundamentals of microeconomic theory
2. Explain how consumers and firms make decisions in the face of scarcity and how these decisions vary in response to changes in the economic environment.
3. Explain how firms make decisions in the face of scarcity and how these decisions vary in response to changes in the economic environment.
4. Apply algebraic, graphical and calculus tools to microeconomic theory.
5. Apply microeconomic principles, theories and models to critically analyze and explain economic situations encountered in the real world that involve microeconomics.
6. Communicate the results of economic analysis in a clear and professional way.

COURSE PREREQUISITES

Requires prerequisite courses of ECON 2010 (Principles of Microeconomics) AND ECON 1088 or MATH 1081 or MATH 1300 or MATH 1310 or APPM 1350 (all min grade C-) (Math/Calculus courses)

ASSIGNMENTS

Early module assignments (50 POINTS) – There will be twelve (12) 5-point early-module assignments. This early-module work is designed to remind you of math and Principles of Microeconomic concepts necessary to be successful in that module. Early module assignments are open book and open note. You have two attempts at each early-module assignment, the highest grade counts, and the lowest two (2) are dropped from your final grade calculation.

Discussion (125 POINTS) – There will be six (6) 25-point discussions. Lowest score dropped so your grade is based on the highest 5 discussions.

- The discussion will occur asynchronously; I will post a discussion question and you will respond to the questions at your convenience prior to the due date. Discussions are open book and opennote and will be submitted through Canvas. There will be two deadlines for the discussions. One for your initial post and one for your comments.
- Discussion grade will depend on the qualify of your initial post (15 points) and your comments (10 points).

Exercises (150 POINTS) – There will be twelve (12) 15-point exercises. The format of exercises will be multiple choice, calculations, and short answers and will be open book and open notes. Your lowest two (2) exercises are dropped from your final grade calculation. Exercises will be submitted through Canvas or MyLab. These exercises are very similar to the problem sets. You can re-take the exercises as many times as you need to improve your grade before the due date.

Problem Sets (275 POINTS) – There will be twelve (12) 25-point problem sets. The format of the problem sets will be multiple choice, calculations, and short answers and will be open book and open notes, but you only have one try. Your lowest problem set is dropped from your final grade calculation.

Problem sets will be submitted through Canvas or MyLab and are due on Sundays.

Exams (400 POINTS) – There will be two (2) exams. The proctored midterm exam is worth 150 points and the proctored cumulative final exam is worth 250 points. The format of the exam will be multiplechoice and calculations and will be closed book. The exams are completed on Canvas or MyLab in a proctored setting.

This course requires proctored examinations. The Department of Economics at the University of

Dr. Burdina Intermediate Microeconomics

Colorado Boulder requires students to use the online proctoring tool, Proctorio, for their proctored exams. Proctorio allows students to complete an assessment at a remote location, such as their home, while helping to ensure the integrity of the exam. There is no cost to use this tool.

- Please review the Proctorio Minimum System Requirements to ensure you have the correct hardware and software to use this tool.
- Note that you are required to have a computer with a functioning webcam and microphone or have access to a computer with a functioning webcam microphone to complete your exams. See Canvas for detailed information about proctoring. If you are in a rural area or on a military base, you may need approval process.

EXTRA CREDIT

Extra Credit – There will be multiple opportunities throughout the course to earn extra credit. These opportunities are discussed in the welcome video (I'm providing you with incentives to watch those videos) as well as announced throughout the semester. Pay attention and you will be rewarded!

POLICY ON DUE DATES

Each lecture you will complete a series of critical thinking questions that reflect material from the various delivery formats and required readings. It is your responsibility to turn in each assignment on the required date. Exercises or discussion postings turned in after the scheduled due date will be lowered by 10% for each 12-hour period late. Once an assignment has been opened in MyEconLab, it is really hard to give an extension. In this case, you need to talk to me (the professor) to think of a solution. The exceptions that may be considered is due to sickness, university excused function, or circumstances beyond the students' control. The instructor reserves the sole right to determine what grounds constitutes a reasonable excuse for missing or submitting a late work assignment, the right to require the student to submit proper verification of such excuse

NETIQUETTE

All students should be aware that their behavior impacts other people, even online. I hope that we will all strive to develop a positive and supportive environment and will be courteous to fellow students and your instructor. Due to the nature of the online environment, there are some things to remember.

1. Always think before you write. In other words, without the use of nonverbals with your message, your message can be misinterpreted. So please think twice before you hit submit.
2. Keep it relevant. There are places to chat and post for fun everyday stuff. Do not stray from the discussion in the assigned questions.
3. Never use all caps. This is the equivalent of yelling in the online world. It is not fun to read. Only use capital letters when appropriate.
4. Make sure that you are using appropriate grammar and structure. In other words, I don't want to see anyone writing "R U" instead of "are you". There are people in the class that may not understand this type of abbreviation, not to mention it does nothing to help expand your writing and vocabulary skills. Emoticons are fine as long as they are appropriate. A smile 😊 is welcome, anything offensive is not.
5. Treat people the same as you would face-to-face. In other words, it is easy to hide behind the computer. In some cases, it empowers people to treat others in ways they would not in person. Remember there is a person behind the name on your screen. Treat all with dignity and respect and you can expect that in return.
6. Respect the time of others. This class is going to require you to work in groups. Learn to respect the time of others in your group and your experience will be much better. Always remember that you are not the only person with a busy schedule, be flexible. Do not procrastinate! You may be one that works best with the pressures of the deadline looming on you, but others may not be that way. The same is true for the reverse. The key to a successful group is organization, communication and a willingness to do what it takes to get it done.
