INSTRUCTOR BIO:

Billy Mertens, PhD, University of Colorado, 2000, is a senior instructor specializing in teaching undergraduate classes in economic theory. His research interests are in the fields of public choice economics and international trade. He has examined the political effects of international political economic sanctions policies, particularly as applied to dictatorships. He has also conducted a public choice analysis of the motivations behind uses of different immigration policies, and more recently he is focused on research into the pedagogy of economics. Billy enjoys running, mogul skiing, and spending time with family and friends.

- Note: all email correspondence will be through your CU Boulder email address.
- Do not use the Canvas email or messages, it is not checked.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course examines basic concepts of microeconomics or the behavior and the interactions of individuals, firms and government. Topics include determining economic problems, how consumers and businesses make decisions, how markets work, and how they fail and how government actions affect markets.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to

- 1. Define the basic economic terms presented.
- 2. Distinguish between different economic terms and concepts and recognize how those concepts apply to different economic problems.
- 3. Analyze different economic principles and use those principles to differentiate between the illogical and the sensible, between the misleading use of statistics, misleading anecdotal evidence, and the reasonable presentation of information.
- 4. Synthesize the information given in each section to explain key concepts and set up and solve problems that utilize the economic principles.
- 5. Acquire the ability to think about complex economic issues in a logical objective manner, so that you discriminate between correct solutions to economic problems, and common misconceptions.
- 6. Evaluate different economic arguments and interpret the reasons why some are well-founded, while others are not.

REQUIRED COURSE MATERIALS:

Textbook (required): Mankiw, N. Gregory; Principles of Microeconomics 8thedition with Aplia. Aplia is where you will read your textbook and complete some graded assignments. You will access Aplia through our course website, Canvas.

Course Website: https://canvas.colorado.edu/ (Canvas) Grades and any further additional readings will be posted on Canvas. Please check Canvas frequently for any relevant notifications/changes that may occur throughout the course.

SUPPLEMENTAL READINGS:

Supplemental readings and other materials will be provided in Canvas system, via the CU Library electronic reserve, or by links to websites.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODOLOGY AND DELIVERY:

This course is delivered via distance education format using the CU Canvas system. This format will use a combination of readings, online discussion, and other web-based resources. You will interact with the instructor and other students using the communication functions provided by Canvas. You will submit assignments in accordance with the course outline using Canvas.

COURSE PRESENTATION AND PROCEDURES:

There will be 14 modules corresponding to the 14 weeks of the course (1 module per week). You should proceed through one lecture per week, which will be comprised of readings from the course texts, supplemental class notes, graded discussion questions, homework and quizzes, exams, and various outside sources of information such as additional readings and video content, among other content.

COURSE OUTLINE:

Review the separate weekly class schedule titled "Course Outline" found on Canvas under the "Introduction" section in "Modules".

EVALUATION AND GRADING:

COURSE GRADING CRITERIA

CLASS PARTICIPATION:

This course is designed to engage you through class discussions on the topics covered in the course materials. It is important that you participate in class discussions to facilitate learning by other students and gain exposure to different viewpoints of other students in the class. It is therefore necessary to participate throughout the week in the discussion questions, not wait until the last minute to post on discussion topics.

ECON 2010: Principles of Microeconomics

ASSIGNMENTS:

Discussions (150 POINTS) – There will be online discussions posts and discussion comments associated with many modules. The discussion will occur asynchronously; I will post a discussion question and you will respond to the questions at your convenience prior to the due date. Each time you participate, you earn up to 30 points. There are 6 discussions, and your lowest one (1) discussion is dropped from your final grade calculation. Discussions are open book and open note and will be submitted through Canvas. See the class schedule for due dates of posts and comments. The discussion post is always due on Thursday and the discussion response is always due on Sunday.

Quizzes (220 POINTS) – There will be quizzes associated with most modules each worth 20 points. The format of the quizzes will be multiple choice, calculations, and short answers and will be open book and open notes. There are 12 quizzes, and your lowest one (1) quiz is dropped from your final grade calculation. Quizzes will be submitted through MindTap. Quizzes are always due on Sunday.

Homework (110 POINTS) – There will also be some homework associated with each module. The format of the quizzes will be calculations, and short answers and will be open book and open notes. There are 12 sets of homework, and your lowest one (1) homework is dropped from your final grade calculation. Homework will be submitted through MindTap. Homework is always due on Friday.

Practice Exams (20 POINTS) - There will be two (2) practice exams.

Exams (500 POINTS) – There will be two (2) exams. The proctored midterm exam is worth 200 points and the proctored cumulative final exam is worth 300 points. The format of the exam will be multiple choice and calculations and will be closed book. The exams are completed in MindTap in a proctored setting.

Proctoring:

This course requires proctored examinations. Exams are proctored which will require planning on your part. Proctors are individuals who administer the exam process following the guidelines provided by University of Colorado Boulder to ensure academic integrity.

Who can be my proctor?

If you are in Boulder or nearby, you can take your exam:

- 1. With me at the Department of Economics. There is no cost for using this proctor. This option is only on selected days during the exam period.
- 2. At the University Testing Center on-campus in Boulder, CO. There may be a cost for using the testing center. This option is only available M-F during regular business hours.
- 3. With ProctorU or a comparable online proctoring service as determined by your instructor. Online proctoring is a service that uses a webcam and microphone to ensure academic integrity. To use this service, you must have access to a computer with a webcam and a microphone. There will be a cost for using the online proctoring services.

If you are outside of Boulder, you can take your exam:

- 1. At an accredited college or university testing center in your town or nearby. There may be a cost for using this testing center.
- 2. With ProctorU or a comparable online proctoring service as determined by your instructor. Online proctoring is a service that uses a webcam and microphone to ensure academic integrity. To use this service, you must have access to a computer with a webcam and a microphone. There will be a cost for using the online proctoring services.

Please see Canvas for detailed information about proctoring, including the contact information for the UTC, ProctorU, and a nationwide list of accredited college or university testing centers. If you are in a rural area or on a military base, you may need to be approved to use a person as a proctor and information is provided on Canvas for this approval process.

EXTRA CREDIT:

There will be 20 points of extra credit available (= 2% of the course grade).

- Weekly Adaptive Test Prep on MindTap. Each time you complete an assigned Adaptive Test Prep activity by the due date, you will receive 1.5 points extra credit, up to 18 points total (= 12 * 1.5 points).
- 2. An additional 2 points extra credit will be available during the semester for completing certain activities, such as listening and commenting on a podcast, etc. These extra credit opportunities will be determined by the instructor and announced on Canvas.

EXPECTATIONS OF INSTRUCTORS:

As a student enrolled in this course, one of your responsibilities is to submit course work by the due dates listed in the Schedule. With that said, I take my role as your instructor very seriously, and, in fact, I care about how well you do in this course and that you have a satisfying, rewarding experience. That said, I am adamant about giving each student an equal opportunity to perform well in the course

To that end, it is our commitment to you to respond individually to the work you submit in this class and to return your work in a timely manner. If, however, due to unforeseeable circumstances, the grading of your work takes longer than the times I have listed here, I will keep you informed of my progress and make every effort to return your work with feedback as soon as I can.

General Course Announcements

• Announcements: Please check the "announcements" section on Canvas often.

Course Policies:

POLICY ON CHEATING:

IF YOU ARE FOUND TO HAVE VIOLATED THE HONOR CODE (SEE BELOW), BY BOTH THE HONOR CODE COUNCIL AND MYSELF, YOU WILL AUTOMATICALLY FAIL THE COURSE!

NETIQUETTE:

All students should be aware that their behavior impacts other people, even online. I hope that we will all strive to develop a positive and supportive environment and will be courteous to fellow students and your instructor. Due to the nature of the online environment, there are some things to remember.

Keep in mind that operating online requires us to communicate with each other through written text. Therefore, the online environment is missing many of the nuances that we can provide in face-to-face communication (tone of voice, facial expressions, etc.). Thus, online, be sure to pay close attention to: tone of voice (is your language possibly strong or offensive?); clearness of communication (did you clearly explain your thoughts, or do excessive typos confuse your message?). Some additional steps to consider:

- 1. Always think before you write. In other words, without the use of non-verbals with your message, your message can be misinterpreted. So please think twice before you hit submit.
- Treat people the same as you would face-to-face. In other words, it is easy to hide behind the computer. In some cases, it empowers people to treat others in ways they would not in person. Remember there is a person behind the name on your screen. Treat all with dignity and respect and you can expect that in return.
- 3. Respect the time of others. Always remember that you are not the only person with a busy schedule, be flexible. Do not procrastinate! You may be one that works best with the pressures of the deadline looming on you, but others may not be that way, and I need to give them the same helpful feedback that you may require.
- 4. Keep it relevant. There are places to chat and post for fun everyday stuff. Do not stray from the discussion in the assigned questions.
- 5. Never use all caps. This is the equivalent of yelling in the online world. It is not fun to read. Only use capital letters when appropriate.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS:

You need a consistent, high-speed Internet connection to view the lecture videos and the other content in this course. When you take quizzes, we recommend you use either a desktop computer or a laptop in a quiet location with a secure connection. We do NOT recommend using an iPad or other mobile device to take a quiz. If you have access to a high-speed wired connection, that's preferable to a wireless connection. We recommended that you have installed the latest versions of Adobe Flash, Adobe Reader, and QuickTime.

- Windows XP (Service Pack 2), Vista, or Windows 7 and above
- Minimum 2GB RAM
- High speed internet connection: 500 kbps or above (Cable, DSL, FiOS)
- Working soundcard and speakers/headphones
- Mozilla Firefox browser is recommended with Java and cookies enabled (Internet Explorer 10 and 11 are not supported by D2L)
- Sun Java Runtime Environment (JRE) Macintosh• Mac OS X (Lion 10.7 and above) Minimum 2GB RAM
- High speed internet connection: 500 kbps or above (Cable, DSL, FiOS)
- Working soundcard and speakers/headphones
- Mozilla Firefox browser is recommended with Java and cookies enabled Sun Java Runtime Environment (JRE)

POLICY ON DUE DATES:

As stated above, in each module you will complete assignments that reflect material from the various delivery formats and required readings. It is your responsibility to turn in each assignment on the required date. All assignments turned in after the scheduled due date will be lowered to the next letter grade for each 12-hour period late. The exceptions that may be considered are due to sickness, university excused functions, or circumstances beyond the students' control. The instructor reserves the sole right to determine what grounds constitutes a reasonable excuse for missing or submitting a late work assignment, the right to require the student to submit proper verification of such excuse.

HONOR CODE:

All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying, bribery, and threatening behavior. All incidents of academic misconduct shall be reported to the Honor Code Council (honor@colorado.edu; 303-725-2273). Students who are found to be in violation of the academic integrity policy will be subject to both academic sanctions from the faculty member and non-academic sanctions (including but not limited to university probation, suspension, or expulsion). Additional information on the Honor Code can be found at http://www.colorado.edu/policies/student-honor-code-policy

DISABILITIES:

If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit a letter to the instructor from Disability Services in a timely manner so that your needs may be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact: 303-492-8671, Willard 322, or http://www.Colorado.edu/disabilityservices
