OTHER WORKS

- CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT 2018 Cherokee Environmental Leadership Program. A land-based education program developed in partnership with the Cherokee Nation Medicine Keepers. This is the educational component of my NSF CAREER Award, which will train five Cherokee students in traditional and Western science over the course of three years. 40pp.
- VIDEO PRODUCTION 2015 Cherokee Voices for the Land. 30 minutes, still-image with voice-overs. Documentary video compiled, designed, and edited using Adobe Elements Premiere. This is a product of the PhotoVoice project carried out with the Cherokee Nation Medicine Keepers regarding Cherokee perspectives on land use and health. [Available on YouTube.]

- COMMUNITY PUBLICATIONS
- 2018 Stand As One: Spiritual Teachings of Keetoowah; Awakening to the Original Truths, by Crosslin Fields Smith. Ranchos de Taos, NM: Dog Soldier Press. This is a memoir and compilation of traditional teachings by Cherokee elder and spiritual leader, Crosslin Smith. At his request and with his guidance, I compiled, edited, and gave structure to the manuscript based on previously transcribed interviews. I also served as liaison to the publisher on behalf of Mr. Smith, handling the publishing contract and all communications.
- 2009 Wild Plants of the Cherokee Nation. Designed and compiled with Pat Gwin and Mark Dunham, Cherokee Nation Natural Resources Department. Booklet on Cherokee ethnobotany based on years of work with tribal elders and plant experts. This is an approved project by the Cherokee Nation Medicine Keepers designed to preserve and revitalize Cherokee ethnobotanical knowledge. 18pp.
- 2003 The Love and Life of Rend Percentie (As Told to Richard W. Stoffle). Bureau of Applied Research in Anthropology, University of Arizona. Life history of a Bahamian leader and bush doctor. This was a community project and a product of the Bahamas Marine Protected Area Project internship. Principal Investigator: Dr. Richard Stoffle. Work involved transcription, compilation, and design of the manuscript as well as follow-up interviews with Mr. Percentie. 20pp.
