

Senior Seminar/Essay, Honors Thesis, Independent Study Registration Form

Return this form to Humanities 340 (or email to frenital@colorado.edu)

This form authorizes registration for Honors Thesis, Independent Study, and/or Senior Seminar/Essay. For Honors Thesis and Senior Seminar, the subject matter class must be listed to drop, and the corresponding professor's section must be listed to add. Drops made after the 3-week drop date will result in a "W" grade posted on the transcript, and full tuition and fees will be assessed.

Further instructions can be found on page 2 of this form.

Instructions for Independent Study:

Attach a brief description of your proposed Independent Study research topic.

Include course requirements, the time frame for completion, and the projected outcome (e.g., research paper or research paper plus presentation). Describe the general field of your research (e.g., century, theme) and the specific approach you plan to take. Please note: Thesis topics may include broader cultural components (e.g., history, politics) and touch upon visual arts, cinema and other art forms, but must remain related to French or Italian studies.

If not a major or department graduate student, please also indicate how the department eligibility requirements have been met.

This form (and attached description) MUST be submitted and your Independent Study Project approved prior to the “add” deadline of the semester.

Note: Independent Study may not substitute for any course regularly offered by this department. Enrollment in an Independent Study course means there is an expectation of a minimum of twenty-five (25) hours spent on the project per credit.
