Program

Graduate Students are required to maintain at least a 3.0 average in all work attempted while enrolled in the Graduate School. In cases where you have been directed to submit an academic recovery plan, your academic program will need to make a recommendation as to your continuation as a graduate student and you must create an academic plan by which you can return to good standing. Formulate an academic plan based upon the courses you plan to take and the grades which will need to be received. Consider utilizing the grade replacement process as part of the plan. Work with your advisor to determine what support might be available and the best way to check in throughout the semester. Consider joining the Graduate School's Graduate+ seminar series and checking out related resources.
