

Advanced Honors Writing: Honors Journal section (HONR 3220-881)

Decide what to publish in this year's Honors Journal.

Students enrolled in the class will select student art and writing to publish this year's issue of the University of Colorado Honors Journal.

Strengthen your review and writing skills.

Students enrolled in the class will work behind-the-scenes to review art, fiction, natural science research papers, humanities research papers, poetry, gender & ethnic studies writing and creative work, and more submitted by CU students.

Learn design skills.

Students will learn basic design and layout skills in Adobe InDesign.

Get Gen Ed credit.

The class counts for the General Education upper-division writing requirement.

Questions?

Contact Dr. Hickcox with questions about the class: Hickcox@colorado.edu.

Interested but can't take the class? Submit your art & writing.

Any undergraduate student at CU Boulder can submit fiction, art, poetry, course papers, research papers, and more.

Send submission questions to honors.journal@colorado.edu.

