

Finding Light in Darkness

Claire Tetro

This is a photo story series depicting how we can still find light in the darkness of COVID-19.

In my photography, I like to capture beauty for beauty's sake. I photograph images that we otherwise wouldn't notice as beautiful until we take the time to notice them. I especially focus on lighting in my photography and the power that light can have on the objects and things around us.